McMahon Not Allowed To Testify In Wife's Alienation Suit

HOOVER WARNS WORLD

Attempt Made To Put McMahon On Stand Today

Permission Is Denied Defense Because Of Relationship To Plaintiff

SLOW PROGRESS IS MADE THIS MORNING

Youthful Witness Admits He Spent Much Time At Home Of Mrs. Emery

Little progress was made in the case of Mrs. Esther McMahon, who is suing Mrs. M. Belle Emery for the alienation of the affections of the former's husband, David M. McMahon, this morning being devoted to reading the time slips of Mr. Mahon, who was also employed as a passenger brakeman by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

The entire record of Mr. McMahon's employment from February until December, 1930, inclusive, was read into the testimony this morning, consuming much time.

Mrs. J. C. Blevins of Warren avenue asked The News to deny the intimation in testimony given in the case last week, that she had ever watched the home of Mrs. Belle Emery. The intimation is untrue, she said.

Fusco On Stand.

Dan Fusco, a neighbor youth, who testified Saturday morning to hearing J. H. Hendrix call Mrs. Emery vile names, was on the stand when the trial was resumed, and on cross-examination by Attorney Walter Braham, admitted that he had spent considerable time at Mrs. Emery's home during the past two years,

PA NEWC OBSERVES

From every church pulpit in New Castle an appeal went out Sunday for the support of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society in its solicitation this week for members. The drive was opened this morning.

Motoring on Sunday, Pa Newc saw results of the usual week-end accident quota. Spilled gasoline and shattered glass were found on Grant street, just off North Jefferson, where an accident brought out an ambulance. A broken wheel and other damage was noticeable on a stalled machine on the Wilmington road, where the Highway Patrol took charge of the situation following another accident.

Motorists are urged to be on the lookout Tuesday when they drive on the Plaingrove road. Oiling operations will be started on that road Tuesday afternoon by the State Highway Department.

Golf courses must have been doing a rushing business over the week end, judging from the number of persons seen on the streets in golfing outfits.

Another former New Castle man is coming back to this district, convinced after five years' absence that New Castle isn't such a bad place after all. He is J. R. Boughter, who has been at Baltimore for several years past. Persons who think that somewhere else is much better than New Castle would do well to get out

PREPARING TO START WORK ON PYMATUNING

Apparently preliminary work is being done on the site of the Pymatuning dam, preparatory to actual start of the big contract. Although Governor Pinchot has not as yet signed the bill appropriating $1,500,000 for the work, he has announced that he will affix his signature on Thursday at the state capital.

Inspection of the site of the projected dam, shows that trees are being cut, and temporary roads being laid out so that the dam site can be easily reached.

It is indicated that the first work to be done on the project will be clearing the acreage that will be covered by the water when the dam is constructed. This will be quite extensive as there are many stretches of woodland and underbrush.

The site of the dam is about 45 miles from New Castle via the highway. It is reached by way of Greenville and Jamestown, Pa., the dam site being a few miles beyond Jamestown, Pa. The road from Jamestown is dirt.

Rather an unusual sight is to be noted enroute to the Pymatuning location beyond Jamestown. There is an auto graveyard that has the appearance of having been in use for the past twenty years. Hundreds of relics of cars are strewn over the fields, some of them apparently having been there for years.

The Pymatuning dam site will probably become the mecca for curious tourists in the near future, and Jamestown, the nearest town will likely have a temporary boom in business.

Princess Helene Has Diphtheria

Divorced Wife Of King Carol Of Roumania Contracts Diphtheria

REFUSED TO LEAVE MICHAEL'S BEDSIDE

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, May 4.—Princess Helene, divorced wife of King Carol of Roumania, and mother of Crown Prince Michael, who refused to leave his side when he was stricken with diptheria last week, today was stricken with the same disease.

The princess was suffering a high fever, palace officials said, but it was not certain yet whether this resulted from a genuine infection contracted from watching over the prince, or whether it might have developed from the anti-diptheria injections administered in an effort to prevent her being infected.

She is in bed in the same palace with Prince Michael, only a few rooms removed, and the same physicians are caring for both.

Both the physicians and King Carol warned Princess Helene of the danger of contracting the disease last week when Michael's illness was diagnosed as diphtheria, but the princess refused to leave the sickroom, saying: "I have but one child. My place is by his side."

Michael was reported to be making good progress and all danger in his case was regarded as past.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 4.—Another feminine murder—the fourth in a series of such crimes this year—today confronted authorities with the fatal stabbing of Hazel Bradshaw, 20, a telephone operator of Arizona.

The girl's body in which a knife had been plunged about a dozen times, was fund in the By Scout Indian Village in Balboa Park by two scouts.

Not a single clue was left by the killer in the latest woman murder to send a new chill of terror through the hearts of San Diego residents. Those preceding the death of Miss Bradshaw at the hands of fiendish slayers were:

Mrs. W. B. Bibbens, who was garroted in her expensive apartment April 23.

Louise Teuber, 17, who was strangled and hanged to a tree April 17.

Virginia Brooks, schoolgirl, kidnaped and murdered Feb. 11.

The last person to have seen Miss Bradshaw was Edward Garrison, 35, a railroad commissary head and suitor for hear heart. He told police:

"I haven't any idea who did it," he declared. "I can't figure it out at all."

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 4.—It's good news to know that there is one industry that is flourishing. Reno has just divorced everybody that had been there six weeks.

They just took the hotels' registers of six weeks ago that day and issued a divorce to everybody whose names were on there. Some of them were people who had no intention of getting one, but they are rushed so they haven't time to go over the lists and see who wants one and who don't. They figure it's easier to let the few that didn't want one get married again.

So be careful, if you don't want one, don't register or even be seen in Reno, or six weeks later you will receive word you have been divorced, whether you are married or not.

Yours,

Will Rogers.

Employ 200 Men For State Highway Work For Next Two Weeks

Two hundred additional men were placed temporarily on the payroll of the seventh ward branch of the state highway department today.

H. W. Lightner, superintendent of the department in Lawrence and Mercer counties, said this morning that the additional help has been hired for work which will be available May 15.

The employment, Lightner said was given to local residents. Lightner said that 100 men were hired in Lawrence county and another 100 in Mercer. The East Cherry street branch of the state bureau serves as a highway maintenance branch for both Lawrence and Mercer counties.

The corps of workers today began a thorough overhauling of all state roadbeds in both counties. During the two weeks of their employment the new workers will trim hedges along the highways, repair wood and stone work and otherwise make the roads in excellent repair. The practice of hiring additional help at this time of the year is a habit of past seasons.

TO BUILD TEMPORARY ROAD OVER BIG FILL

(International News Service)

COCHRANTON, Pa., May 4—Partial victory over the swamp fill at Custard on the Perry highway, was on record today, with the announcemen from District Engineer T. C. Frame that a temporary macadam roadway will be constructed over the spot.

Over 250,000 cubic feet of earth have been dumped into the "big sink" at a cost estimated at $100,000. The more dirt was thrown into the fill, the more it would bulge out somewhere else. Tappings are to be continued to discover whether there is an underground stream that has carried away much of the filling.

Engineers report sufficient safety for the construction of a temporary roadway but said they do not anticipate the laying of a permanent road for four years.

New Castle and Lawrence county folks who have visited the site of the big fill during the past few days are of the opinion that there is still a large amount of filling to be done before the roadway is reday for construction even temporarily.

HARRISBURG, May 4.—Convening here tonight, the state legislature is scheduled to get its week's program under way with a bang and keep it up at a steady clip through the fore part of the week.

HOOVER SPEAKS AT C. OF C. CONVENTION

"Calling Of Land Armament Conference If Proof Of Progress"

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 4.—President Hoover, opening the Sixth General Congress of the International Chamber of Commerce here today, sounded a warning note that the world is far too heavily armed to insure continuance of peace.

Even though 12 years have passed since the armistice, and virtually every nation is a signatory to the Kellogg-Briand pact renouncing war, Mr. Hoover cited the following statistics on armaments.

Arms Expenditures Immense

"The world expenditures on all arms is now nearly five billions of dollars yearly, an increase of about 700 per cent over that previous to the great war. We stand today with near 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 20,000,000 more in reserve. These vast forces, greatly exceeding those of the pre-war period, still are to be demobilized be-

Fatalities From Automobile Accidents Over Week-End Show Decrease

(International News Service)

Sharp recession in week end automobile fatalities was revealed today in a tabulation of International News Service Dispatches which indicated that only three persons met death while thirty-one were injured in a series of week end motoring crashes.

Eastern, Central and Western Pennsylvania each reported one death while the central portion of the state led in the injured category with thirteen, followed by Eastern Pennsylvania with ten, and the western section of the state with eight.

Intoxicated Drivers

Two fatal crashes, one at Philadelphia and another at Camden, N. J., nearby, resulted in a more than casual police investigation. Three persons were killed and a girl in the two accidents which occurred, according to police, as the result of operation of cars by intoxicated drivers.

Attorney Absent, Case Is Continued

Owing to the fact that Attorney J. It is expected that Attorney Martin will be back in time to take up the case this afternoon. The case grew out of a controversy over a building contract which Mr Gilfillan had in Ellwood City and in which the bank was interested.

You're the JUDGE

For years Zeb Hodgett has been wanting to buy the land next to his farm, owned by Philomeno Rossbo. At last Rossbo agreed to sell, and so the two drew up an agreement whereby Rossbo would sell the tract to Zeb for a certain sum, part of which was to be paid by a given time the same year, and the balance to be paid exactly one year from that date. Zeb made the first payment gladly. But before the second payment became due Rossbo sold the land to a third party all without of the knowledge of Zeb, who paying on it.

When the day for the balance came due Rossbo came around to Zeb to collect the money. Zeb was not ready to make the payment, but still thinking that the land was his, he agreed that they draw up a promissory note in which Zeb agreed to pay $500 to Rossbo for the relinquishment of his demands upon him. It was not long after that, however, that Zeb learned that the land had been sold while he was still paying on it. But he said nothing about his discovery. However, when the note came due he refused to pay it, and immediately Rossbo filed suit.

The lower court held that Zeb did not have to pay the $500, but Rossbo appealed to a higher court.

How would you decide this case? Make up your mind before you read the decision.

STAR LORE

ABOUT THE HORNS OF THE NEW MOON

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The horns of the new moon always point away from the sun. Some artists paint a new moon into their pictures with horns turned toward the sun. That is carelessness. A line connecting the tips of the two horns of new moon is always at a right angle to a line from moon to sun. Uninformed observers place great stress upon a "wet" or "dry" moon, not knowing that the scientist can compute in advance the position of the sun for any new moon, becaues he is able to determine the exact position of both as in computing eclipses. In spring the new moon always "holds water", in autumn the new moon does not "hold water".

and see for themselves and they would change their attitude on this city, he said. New Castle and Lawrence county are just about as fine a place as can be found.

And Mr. Boughter is right. Most of the complaining about New Castle and Lawrence county is done by folks who have never travelled to any extent, or have never bucked conditions in any other locality.

There was quite an unusual scene in the vicinity of Fairmont and Highland avenues this morning. This usually quiet sector was teeming with activity. Scores of men were on the street, while parked autos were to be seen on the streets in several directions. Work was getting under way on the first paving contract to be started in the city this spring, paving of Fairmont avenue.

Pa Newc has learned that residents at West Leasure avenue and North Beaver street are complaining about a deep hole located at the north east corner of the intersection. The hole is three feet deep and should be filled, residents declared.

Pa Newc learns on reliable authority that the first iris to be found in bloom is now noticeable in all its glory in the yard of Mrs. Perry McFarland, 220 Northview avenue. The plant began to bloom 10 days ago ago and was the object of comment from neighbors of the McFarlands.

JAPANESE TIRMAN COMMENCES FLIGHT TO UNITED STATES

the United States by air, Yoshihara got away from Haneda airdrome at 10:10 a. m. today (9 p. m. Sunday eastern daylight saving time) and headed for Numasaki, his first stopping place, 368 miles north of Tokio.

Is Confident.

Yoshihara, who earned himself the title of the "Lindbergh of Japan" by his flight from Berlin to Tokio last year, is attempting the long aerial journey from the Orient to the new world in a German amphibian plane. His proposed route will take him over the Kurile islands of Petropavlovsk, Siberia, over the Bering sea to the Aleutian islands and thence to Seward, Alaska.

From Seward he will fly southward to Seattle and then to San Francisco, ending his epic journey at Washington. The total distance is something over 9,300 miles.

Calm and smiling, Yoshihara expressed confidence of success as he took his place at the controls and pointed his plane toward the other side of the world.

Thousands at Takeok.

Thousands of persons gathered at the airport to witness the start of the journey. Diplomatic and government officials were on hand and Yoshihara was entrusted with a message from a Japanese newspaper to President Hoover, which he expects to deliver in less than three weeks.

Bee Army Arrives Here From Alabama For 4-H Club Work

Bees, 150,000 strong, were swarming in the office of County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch today. Young, but healthy, buzzing and jumping over each other in their eagerness to see the sights of New Castle, they wedged together in phalanxes, each desirous of getting a better view before leaving for the life in an apiary.

They arrived this morning by mail in screened boxes from the Honey Brook farm at Hayneville, Ala., and will be forwarded to East Brook and Plaingrove 4-H Bee Club workers.

SUNDAY BASEBALL MEASURE BEFORE HOUSE TONIGHT

take up the question of a final adjournment and fix a quitting time sometime this week.

Still in the spotlight is the Schwartz bill, which was amended last week to provide for baseball on Sunday between 2 p. m. and 5:30 p. m., with a local option proviso. The measure itself amends the blue laws of 1794, to permit later milk deliveries on Sunday, but that provision has almost been lost sight of in the interest in the baseball clause.

Both Sides Confident

Both proponents and opponents of Sunday baseball are claiming victory in the final issue. When the baseball amendment went into the Schwartz bill it was put through a vote of 103 to 99, two votes short of a constitutional majority. Advocates of Sunday ball claim they will have the votes tonight to pass the amended bill, while those favoring retention of the blue laws without change claim they will muster sufficient ballots to defeat it.

The administration Coal and Iron Police bill, sponsored by Rep. Wilson, McKean, is due for a stiff battle. Amended several times, it provides that the police force set up under its terams may be leased to employers or employees when necessary and still is found unsatisfactory to organized labor. Strong disapproval of it has been registered by opponents of the Coal and Iron Police and Labor leaders.

Appropriation Bill

The Steedle General Appropriation bill, held up in committee after two readings, is expected to come out in the house some time during the week and be given final passage. A strong effort will also be made to get the proposed state election code out on the floor for action, while conferences between the elections committees of both houses tonight are expected to iron out differences over the McClure congressional reapportioning bill and enable it to pass one chamber during the week.

Meeting Thursday, the House Utilities investigating committee is expected to clean up on its hearings and odds and ends of testimony and start work on its final report. Completion of the committee's work depends largely on whether A. M. Greenfield, Philadelphia, appears before it to discuss Philadelphia transit measures.

Prisoner Is Under Guard In Hospital

Francis Desmont Taken From Jail To Hospital For Appendicitis Operation

Constantly under the guard of sheriff's deputies, Francis "Happy" Desmont, dapper and handsome youth of Youngstown, who was convicted by a Lawrence county jury several weeks ago, along with Sam Raniolo and John Senkert, for the robbery of the J. B. Roux feed and coal store of New Wilmington, is slowly recovering at the New Castle hospital from an operation for appendicitis.

Three deputies are maintaining watch over Desmont, who was found guilty by the jury of aiding in the stickup of the store and of binding the manager and two others before escaping with Raniolo and Senkert with about $260. The guards are kept on eight-hour shifts at the hospital.

Although found guilty at the March term of court, Desmont and the other two are appealing for a new trial. Several days ago he was rushed from the county jail to the hospital for the operation.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL NEW CASTLE PA.

PENNSYLVANIA AS TOURIST STATE

WE PENNSYLVANIANS are too modest as to the possibilities of our own state as a mecca for tourists for the summer.

The Keystone state has a multitude of things that carry appeal to tourists from all parts of the nation, if the proper appeal is made. The scenery is eclipsed by none in any state, there are historic places by the scores, and we have unexcelled roads, and more of them than any other state in the union.

It's time to do a little more shouting from the housetops.

If New Castle were in some states where they are prone to do a lot of shouting and conditions the same, it would be ballyhooed to the world as "The Gateway from the West into the great tourist state of Pennsylvania."

Summer tourist business is becoming a big factor in business in this nation. Thousands do tour Pennsylvania, but the number would be doubled or tripled if real concerted effort were made to advertise Pennsylvania nation-wide as is done for some states.

There are even a lot of Pennsylvanians in this section who have never seen eastern or central Pennsylvania, and there are a lot in the eastern part of the state who have never given Western Pennsylvania the once over.

Start advertising Pennsylvania as a tourist state to your friends in distant parts.

Certain we are that one can start here and drive west as far as Colorado before anything that can touch Pennsylvania scenery or highways is found.

Every one of us can help to increase Pennsylvania's value and reputation as a tourist mecca. Be courteous to visitors from other states. Aid them in any way possible. Little kindnesses of home folks are remembered by tourist state in the union, and we can make it such, if we go about it the right way.

RETURN IT TODAY

By what kind of inscrutable mental process or word jugglery does it come about that there are some objects which no one but a professional thief will take and keep if he can, while there are others which are appropriated by eminently respectable men and women who would feel hurt if they were told that the method in which they acquired these objects is something very close to stealing.

Not one of these very amiable and respectable people would take a dime out of his neighbor's pocketbook, or a $20 bill, even if he could do so without fear of detection. And still hotel keepers complain continually of a shrinkage of their table silver supply, pocketed often by people who have more than enough of it at home. This irresistible impulse would not drive any of these persons to steal an empty milk bottle from somebody's porch; and still, before we took to paper cups, it was necessary to fasten by chain the public tin drinking cup.

In the case of books the moral law seems to be suspended altogether. Many persons who could bring numberless affidavits on their honesty and integrity in every other walk of life, will borrow books, and though their former owner may pine for the want of them, the books are not returned. Practically every one of us can recall the fact that someone has not yet returned the book he borrowed two years ago. And very likely on going over our own stock of books we should come upon one or two which we have not returned.

In some of the largest libraries the world over it has been found necessary to subject all out-going individuals to a search and seizure process to keep down the number of books stolen each year. Apparently this is an international affliction.

It is a tribute to the inherent good nature of men and women that this failure to return books has not put an end altogether to the lending of books. As we are wont to say in matters political: "Something ought to be done about it."

THE BANK OF HEALTH

In the interests of good health someone has likened the body to a checking account in the bank. The checking account will continue growing as long as the deposits exceed the withdrawals. Neglect to make regular deposits and the account is soon overdrawn. Drawing checks before making deposits to cover them is bad banking, and neither banker nor depositor feels at ease when withdrawals keep to close step with the deposits.

Isn't it very much the same with your private "health bank?" As long as you deposit a lot of health to your credit you will have a lot of health at the disposal of your check book. The blank checks in a check book in the "bank of health" are not any more inexhaustible than those in any other sort of check book. Unlike financial banks, the "bank of health" doesn't provide additional checks when your last check is gone.

Deposits in your health bank may be made in many forms. They may be regular sleep, proper eating, exercise or recreation, plenty of work with both mind and body, right posture, fresh air, communion with nature and other health deposits. Every waking and sleeping hour may thus be made a deposit in the bank of health.

When people are not making deposits they are quite often drawing checks. In the bank of health every deposit which is withheld is a withdrawal. You observe regular hours of sleep or draw a check on your health balance. You eat at regular hours and the proper kind of food in the proper way or you make a demand on that health balance. You must work, play, think and laugh or cause a run on the bank of health. Deposits in this bank are always working capital but they require deposits to keep that capital working.

People in poor health know that the bank of health pays a high rate of interest, compounded, to its consistent depositors.

Even the weather reports at times are nothing but hot air.

Got a Sense of Humor?
It Helps in Tough Times
Here's a Test for It

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Perphaps you have. I don't know. Maybe you just think you have. Perhaps your sense of humor hasn't been tested. When it is you'll find out soon enough whether it's the real thing—or skim milk that masquerades as cream.

For a Sense of Humor isn't just a light-hearted companion for days of fortune; it is armor, it is courage, it's the re-enforcing steel of the character with which you face the world.

And maybe you've got a Sense of Humor and maybe you haven't.

I'm not so sure about myself, either. Once or twice I've thought I had. Once a traffic officer bawled me out and right in the middle of the lecture I heard myself laughing, inside—at him, red-faced and angry; at me, meek and taking it in the chin like a docile citizen. There was another time when I was furious and thought of having a fellow arrested. But I didn't. Right at the last moment everything seemed funny, and I saw how laughable it was for me to be swearing out a warrant and bringing another man into court on a trivial charge, and testifying against him and everything, just because he'd done me a small injury and hurt my pride. So I didn't do it.

And for a few days I was quite proud of myself, and went around praising Me because I had a sense of humor.

But I'm not so sure I have a Sense of Humor. If I did have one I wouldn't let life get me down. I'd laugh at gloom, I'd chuckle at fate, I'd smile more at the nagging irritations of life.

So would you. So do you, if you have a real Sense of Humor. Because, if I known anything at all, I'm sure that a Sense of Humor isn't just laughing at jokes, telling funny stories, being a Good Fellow. It's something deeper and stronger. It's seeing life clearly. It is walking lightly, but steadily through life and seeing things just about as they are.

It's taking life seriously, but not taking it mournfully, as a burden It's having a true sense of proportion about ourselves, about other people, about the things that we call Living.

If you have that rare and precious quality within you, then you have a Sense of Humor. But if you have it, you'll not boast about it. You couldn't, because, if you did—you wouldn't have it long. It would fly away from you like a child's pretty balloon. Because the world is so big and life is so broad that any man would look ridiculous if he went around and insisted that he Knew All About It.

Have you got a sense of humor? Wait and see.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

BEGIN YOUNG TO FIGHT IT.

Dr. Robert H. Riley, Director, Department of Health, State of Maryland, has this to say about tuberculosis:

"In directing attention to the menace of tuberculosis to boys and girls from twelve to twenty and the young people a few years older, the tuberculosis associations—among them our own Maryland association—are putting up a 'stop, look and listen' signal at one of the most dangerous points in a young person's life—the passing from youth to maturity.

"Very few grownups go through life without having been exposed at some time to tuberculosis. Those who do not develop the disease acquire what we call an immunity to it. But that can only be brought about and maintained, by keeping the powers of each individual at their very best. By the time most boys and girls have reached high school age, it is estimated that one out of every four is harboring the germs of tuberculosis in the lungs or in some other part of the system.

"If the rules of health are carefully observed, if these boys and girls have nourishing food, plenty

A FATHER'S DISTINCTION

A youngster ran to meet him down the street,
And took his hand and pattered
at his side,
To her alike were victory and defeat,
Nothing to her meant all the marks of pride.

Rich men had passed her and she had not sirred,
A great man in his car had driven by;
Another neared of whom the world had heard
But on his form she never cast an eye.

And then he turned the corner, and she ran
With eyes aglow and happy beating heart,
To greet with kisses glad the weary
man,
Of all the throng to single him
apart!

"Proud father you should be,"
thought I, " and reconciled.
Whatever alien lips in scorn are curled,
Whatever others think, your lovely child
Welcomes you home—the best man in the world."

THIS IS A COMPLAINT

New Castle, Pa., April 30, 1931.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
c/o Hints and Dints,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Certain regional rulers of the universe have again inflicted Daylight Saving upon us, infernal and diabolical thought it be. To me the whole plan is ill conceived, a falsely named and despotic in operation, for it saves nothing, but deprives considerably, and favors only those who are accustomed to sit in high places. These same rulers, however, toil not nor do they ever spin at an "early" hour.

Those who are fortunate enough to have regular or part time employment even at reduced wages or with salary cuts are robbed of a valuable hour of rest at the most favorable time of the day. Of course, to the army of unemployed is given an extra hour for hunting jobs supposed to be provided for every one who has the will to work, but I fear it is used mostly in worrying where the next meal or money is coming from.

To the farmer—always an early riser, it means that he is deprived (a left handed form of relief) of a valuable morning hour necessary in preparing his product for market. In the evening his help quits him at a most favorable time for working the crops.

It is difficult to understand why this undesirable condition should be imposed upon the people by a minority party of self appointed czars, in spite of the yearly protests of a large majority of our honorable citizens. The present day surplus of idle hours on the part of the people at large is the grave problem of the entire nation, and it does not warrant action that aggravates conditions, and is detrimental to the commercial and agricultural life of our country.

Yours in Protest,

Most People Whom Pay As They Go, Never Take Any Long Trips.

In this autobiography, published after his death, Mark Twain tells about a kid printer he knew in boyhood. The two worked in the same shop. One day when the boss was gone a traveling evangelist came in to get some hand bills printed. The copy was volumnious and had to be set in very small type, unleaded. The boys accepted the job reluctantly, for they had planned an outing. When it was set, a proof was pulled and sent to the evangelist in fear and trembling. These misgivings were justified, for soon that worthy appeared with fire in his eye. Mark's friend, coming to the words "Jesus Christ" and being unable to get the full name in a line without tiresome thin spacing, had set it "J. Christ." The evangelist lectured the boys severely—too severely, perhaps, for when they made the correction, which required relining a long paragraph, they made up for their previous niggardly saving of space by inserting an extra initial for good measure. In the proof they left at the shop for revision, the words appeared "Jesus H. Christ." Whether Mr. Clemens was writing history or drawing on his imagination, the story will sound true to those who know printer's devils.

Mayor Walker Defense Fails To Convince Public As Whole

State Investigation Is Expected To Bring Out Facts As To His Administration Of Affairs In New York And Fix Responsibility

The American public has examined the defense of Mayor James J Walker of New York as to the affairs of the metropolis, and in general is not favorably impressed by his discussion of the matter of responsibility. In view of any support he has received through the verdict of Governor Roosevelt, it is felt that further evidence may be necessary, but the popular belief is that final decision must rest with state investigators. The mayor's charge that his accusers are socialists is regarded as irrelevant.

"Walker would have made a stronger presentation of his case if he had abstained from reflecting upon the complainants," thinks the ERIE DISPATCH-HERALD, with the conclusion that "notwithstanding his long legislative service, events have proved that he has no broad grasp of the details of the city government nor any disposition to study them," but that "the voters of New York condoned his faults by re-electing him by a great majority." The Dispatch-Herald maintains that "it takes something more than rhetoric to furnish grounds for the removal of an elective official."

"It is a reasonable defense he makes," according to the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "that he could not be held responsible for the personal conduct of nearly 19,000 men in the police organization, but he gladly accepts responsibility for active procedure against any member who has in any way indicated unfitness to wear the uniform. He instances the case of the president of the United States, or the governor of a state, who can do no more than exercise a reasonable amount of regulation and supervision. It is to be expected that the mayor's accusers will now come to the bat, for it is up to them to make good their charges, or bend the knee in confession of error."

"If he does not know that there has been incompetence and worse in some of the departments, he is not fit to be at the head of the city," contends the INDIANAPOLIS STAR, while the WORCESTER TELEGRAM points out that "fundamentally, the mayor is responsible for most of the men against whom corruption has been proved held office by the sufferance of the mayor," and the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS declares: "In no case has he taken the initiative in an effort to put his house in order. He has moved only under stern necessity. Conditions in the New York city government are so bad that they have aroused public disgust."

"The keynote of his reply to charges filed against him," avers the KANSAS CITY STAR, "is that his honor refuses to be 'a detective'. Indeed not. 'It is not the mayor's business to open desks and drawers and go snooping and sniffing around corners to check up hourly on the actions of 130,000 city employes. The mayor is a man of honor. He will play in the open, or nowhere. Tammany leaders are men of honor, too. There are points beyond which, even to which, they also will not, go. These gentlemen showed that plainly when they were called before a grand jury investigating Tammany and were asked to waive immunity in testifying. They were grossly insulted, and said so. They knew what their business was, even as the mayor knows what his business is, or is not. Think of a mayor snooping around trying to keep tab on his faithful workers. Whoole, as George Bungle would say, such crust! Somebody had better apologize, to the mayor, right away."

"His answer is more thorough than the document that produced it," in the opinion of the NEW YORK SUN, which concedes that "the mayor's list of the accomplishments of his administration is long and, in the main, creditable," but advises that "he might well have omitted the attack on Messrs. Holmes and Wise for their socialism; that has nothing to do with the merits of either the charges or the reply." The NEW YORK EVENING POST says as to the radical charges by the mayor: "What rot! How can a grown man shout forth this kind of stuff, in a voice trembling with passion, and expect public respect for his intellect?"

"In handling the charges of the civic affairs committee," asserts the BALTIMORE SUN, 'Mayor Walker had something of a 'set-up'. The earnestness with which they were drawn was pretty well matched by their looseness, and the mayor had a chance to cut them up badly by appealing to the detailed record at his disposal. This he seems to have done pretty effectively, though of course no judgment on the state of municipal affairs in New York is ventured here on the basis of a necessarily cursory examination of his handiwork. That can much more safely await the results of the legislative investigations now in progress. But in meeting the charges of the civic affairs committee Mayor Walker, by yielding to his apparently uncontrollable penchant for a species of wise-cracking, seems to us to have taken much of the edge off his work."

Observing that Governor Roosevelt's dismissal of the charges "is hailed by the mayor's friends as a vindication," the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR holds that "it can scarcely be so termed correctly." That paper continues: "The charges were submitted and answer was made. That is as far as the matter went. No inquiry into the administration of the city government of New York was made by the governor. He contented himself with pointing out that the charges were not specific in their application to the mayor. While the governor did not say so, he may well have been influenced in part by his knowledge that a legislative committee had been ordered to look into the city government of New York and has as its chief counsel the very man whom the governor picked to conduct an investigation of District Attorney Crain, former Judge Samuel Seabury. With the legislative committee investigation hanging over its head, the Walker administration in New York can only be said to have won a skirmish in the decision of Gov. Roosevelt not to proceed with an inquiry of his own into the mayor's office. The real battle is coming."

"The attack on him, he implies," as recorded by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "is camouflage for a wide attack on all capitalistic institutions, political and financial, and everybody had better hurry up and come to his defense or the nation's institutions will be overthrown. The public will be stupid if it is hoodwinked by anything like this. Attempts have been made to hook up the Communists with almost everything that has happened round the world. Even the state department had to back out of its absurd intimation that the political overturn in Nicaragua was a Red plot directed from Mexico, aimed eventually at this country's control of the Panama Canal. This 'charge' did not divert attention from the real situation in Nicaragua and Mayor Walker may not expect by a similar one to make the public forget the real situation in New York City."

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Your home may be modest, its furnishings plain and your income small.

Yet there may be more of genuine peace, happiness and contentment in it than in a majority of more pretentious homes.

If there is companionship, good cheer, a general helpfulness in spirit and in sympathy, the modest home possesses the most important ideal characteristics.

If within the four walls of your home there is strong family love, perfect confidence and full understanding there is no reason why you should envy any person or family on earth.

Money could not buy these things that make a perfect home for home depends upon qualifications of the soul in unison with other souls in your home.

If you have a philosophy of life that enables you to be contented and happy with what you are able to procure, you have the key to a degree of happiness which many have not found.

On the other hand, if you are dissatisfied because of what you cannot have, life holds little enjoyment for you.

Happiness rests very largely within yourself as an individual.

Money may make the pathway smoother in some cases but giver a spirit of appreciation of the relative values and surrounded by those who love the same, the plainest home is a haven of rest, comfort and contentment.

SURE GUIDANCE—In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.—Proverbs 3:6.

PRAYER—Thou, O God, art our Eternal Guide. Show us the way of life.

"But very few people realize that these years during which the boys and girls are growing out of boyhood and girlhood into manhood and womanhood make great demands upon the system. If the strength happes to be exhausted by severe illness, by overwork, or by worry about school work, by or not enough food—as often happens in the case of girls who want to develop 'slim, boyish figures"—or if they have too little sleep and too much social life, the resistance to disease of any sort, and particularly of tuberculosis, is broken down, the immunity is destroyed and tuberculosis develops.

Hard To Detect Most Causes Of Food Poisoning

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

People are apt to say off-handedly, "I had ptomaine poison," or "I was poisoned by some food." They seem to think that this is an easy matter to prove. The great difficulties of determining the actual nature of food poisoning is illustrated by the procedures that were necessary in an instance where 11 people were poisoned by eating sponge cake.

The symptoms were the usual ones ordinarily ascribed to food poisoning—nausea, vomiting and marked prostration. Some of the people were affected within a few hours, in others the symptoms did not come on for about a day. There were no deaths.

For some reason a laboratory decided to study this epidemic. The sponge cakes were handed over to them and some of this cake was fed to monkeys, rabbits and mice with no bad effects. Then some human volunteers came forward and when they ate the cake they all had the same symptoms as the original group. So the first conclusion was that the cake did contain some factor certainly harmful to man, but having no effect on lower animals.

Then the cake was examined for bacteria, and the layer portion was found to have three kinds of germs living in it. These were all three made to grow on media, and then grow on veal broth. After a good growth was obtained the veal broth was filtered. The laboratory workers then had three kinds of broth and they fed all three to different volunteer experimenters. Broths Nos. 1 and 2 were eaten without harmful effect, but broth No. 3 invariably caused the nausea, diarrhoea and prostration suffered by the original group. This toxic broth was grown from a germ known as the yellow hemolytic streptococcus. It probably hid in the sponge cake as a matter of protective coloration.

One of the instructive features of the experiment is the realization that food poisoning can be caused by eating other things than meat. Meat, or especially fish and oysters, are always blamed, but the fact is that nearly any food can harbor toxic products, even cake that has been heated to a high temperature in baking. A nearly constant finding in food poisoning is an actual germ rather than some chemical substance, a theoretical "ptomaine".

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. R. C. B.: "Will you state why some children grind their teeth together during sleep?"

Answer: It may be due to local conditions in the mouth itself—crooked teeth or some other source of irritation. The habit begins as a reflex nervous reaction. It is often said to be due to irritation of the intestinal trace by worms. It is a very difficult habit to break. Mechanical pacifiers of rubber (but anchored around the neck so they cannot be swallowed, or inspired, or made too big to be swallowed) have helped in some instances.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c and 60c.

LOOKING BACK IN NEW CASTLE

The year 1874 was one of considerable disaster for this city, there being several fires of considerable proportions and in which prominent places of business were destroyed.

One of the places destroyed was the Knox House, one of the city's best known hotels of those days and the livery stable to its rear. The Knox House was located on Washington street on part of the present site of the Neisner Store. It was owned by John Knox, who will be remembered as the owner of the old time mansion, which was located on the present site of the Cathedral.

Other places burned that year were the Mansion House, another of the towns hotels and the Crawford Planning Mill. The Mansion House was originally located at Washington and Mercer streets, where the Leslie Hotel stands today. It, at the time of the fire, was however, located on South Mercer street, near South street, father of Press Leslie, a former alderman of this city, to make room for the Leslie Hotel Building, which has been in existence since about that time.

The result of these disasterous fires was to show the need of an organized fire department and was the immediate cause of the organization of efficient means of fighting fires here. Sharon sent her fire fighters and apparatus, such as it was, to fight the fires.

TUESDAY'S ACTIVITIES

Mr. Winters accompanied the baseball team to Wampum, so the members of the Science and Invention Club, of which he is the head, were sent to visit among the various other clubs.

The What-To-Do Club was favored by a talk on Science by Stanley Zelinka. The regular members then took "mental fingerprints" of these visitors, and the remainder of the period was spent in discussing divorce.

The members of the Latin Club continued the study of the Romans. Their subject was in regard to the garden products of the Romans.

In the Junior Sca-Rab Club, the members are working on silver bracelets.

The Novelty Club members finished their "dog" pillows.

The weiner roast which was planned for this week, by the Dramatic Club, was postponed. The pupils spent their activity period working on their miniature stages.

Members of the Courtesy Club are starting on a new project, that of drawing up a code of courtesy.

A regular weekly practice was held by the Orchestra and Archery clubs.

In the Journalism Club a new news reporter, Lester Nord, was elected to assemble news write-ups for the next month. The Be-Hi editor, Carrie Yeropole, appointed a committee to assist in gathering news for the next issue of the Be-Hi Record, which will come out on May 22. The committee is as follows: Chairman, Carrie Yeropoli, Leona VanTassel, Frank Stanish, Lester Nord, Blanche Howard, James Kangeniser, and Eva Johnson.

Are Asked To Complete Investigations Of Applicants By Next Wednesday

Members of the Garden Club are investigating those who have made applications for free seeds in the garden project being conducted by members of the Asociated Charities, American Red Cross, Lawrence County Welfare Department and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

It is desired to give out the seeds to those who have made application for them, on next Wednesday, and those who have been asked to look up these applicants are asked by the committee to have their work completed by Wednesday, if possible.

It is expected that the supply of seeds available, 400 packets, will be entirely used by those who have made application. In case more seeds are needed, they will be purchased, the committee states.

A DINNER A DOLLAR an A & P scholar

In times like these, when money isn't so plentiful as it might be, every woman is studying ways and means of stretching incomes to cover a multitude of things. Dinners and dollars are being examined more closely this year than ever before.

As a result, the old superstition that the best food must be high in price is wearing pretty thin. For, when a woman starts thinking hard about getting her money's worth, it isn't long before she's in an A & P store. And, once there, she simply can't believe that good food is expensive.

We admit we haven't as many frills and falderals as lots of stores have. But frills come high in grocery stores, and we find we can sell better things to eat at lower prices without them. Our regular customers look at it just about the same way we do—and so will you, if you go into that A & P store near you and cast a cool, scholarly eye over the food there.

Street Accident Is Reported To Police

Considerable Damage Is Done To The Automobiles Involved In Accident

NATIONS ARE TOO HEAVILY ARMED SAYS PRESIDENT

cause of fear and of inability of nations to co-operate in mutual reductions.

"Surely, with this understanding (the Kellogg-Briand treaty), the self-defense of nations could be assured with proportionately far less military forces than these," the President pleaded. "This vast armament continues not only a burden upon the economic recuperation of the world, but, of more consequence, the constant threats and fears which arise from it are a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political or economic."

Mr. Hoover viewed the situation frankly and said that try as we must to support every proposal of economic co-operation which is just "to our respective peoples", "yet we must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition in military establishments is the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms of such economic effort."

Can't Build Confidence on Fear

"International confidence cannot be builded upon fear—it must be builded upon good will," he observed. "The whole history of the world is filled with chapter after chapter of the failure to secure peace through either competitive arms or intimidation."

The President saw some hope in the steps which have been made thus far toward reduction in armaments, and, anticipating the next limitations conference, he had this to say:

"Within a short time the principal nations of the world will meet to discuss the broad questions of reduction in land armament. The very calling of this conference is in itself not only proof of need, but is an emphatic evidence of progress in the world demand for peace and for relief. Of all proposals for the economic rehabilitation of the world, I know of none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful result of that conference. The United States has a less direct interest in land armament reduction than any of the large nations because our forces have been already demobilized and reduced more than all others. We have, however, a vast indirect interest in greater assurance of peace, order and the increased economic prosperity of other nations. It is within the power of business men of the world to insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage and constructive action. It is within the power of statesmen to give to the world a great assurance for the future and a great moral victory for humanity."

Growth Of Personality Explained By Myers

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

A little while ago I was a Michigander conferring with a group of Michigeese about their Michigoslins. I was at Traverse City, Mich., for two days before the state P. T. A. convention. Although it was the first general convention of that state I had visited, I had spoken before the P. T. A. section of the Michigan State Teachers' association at several of their district meetings and had appeared before the P. T. A.'s of several Michigan cities. For a number of years the Michigan State Teachers' association and the P. T. A. have been working very closely together. Few, if any, other states have worked out so close cooperation.

I spoke on "Building Personality in the Child" and "Our Children in School". In the first discussion I tried to analyze, as I have often tried to do in this column, the common human frailties of us parents which unwittingly are barriers to good personality growth in children. I offered some suggestions for cultivating self-expression, confidence and courage, showing how our children may be trained to win acceptance socially, while at the same time avoiding needless failures, conflict and conceit.

Personality growth comes by way of family security, early habits of independence in the child, physical and social courage, ability to face reality, enjoyment of successes, and emotional poise, through healthy infant inhibitions, good early routine habits, abundant normal play by the child with many other children of his age, ample opportunities for expression and creation in a home where he is understood as an individual different from all individuals.

Although we really wish to build personality in our children we often, unawares, do much to destroy it. For example, we grow angry at their learning errors, laugh at their mistakes, interrupt them, answer the questions meant for them, butt in on their conversation, and constantly remind them that they are much less able to express themselves and to carry on their own part of the conversation than they really are. We often are discourteous to them. If to our adult friends we were as rude we soon would be social outcasts. However cultivated and refined we may have grown toward adults, we are still about in the cave-man's age in our conduct toward our children. They are just children. We can keep our social caste and still be rude to them.

By the way, you have from time to time been exposed in this column to small snatches of discussion which will appear in a somewhat different and a more extended form in two books of mine to appear next fall. They are companion books "Building Personality in the Child at Home" and "Building Personality in the Child at School," by the same publisher who recently brought out "The Modern Parent." Naturally a great deal of the gist of these three books will, for stime time, continue to appear in this column in a personal and informal fashion, and those who keep scrap books of this column will have assembled much of the best I have to give.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Two pamphlets by Dr. Myers may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope ,to Dr. Gary C. Hospital Costs

We, all of us, are pretty keenly sensitive to costs. They do say that an American unfailingly asks St. Peter how much the gate cost before asking admission.

When it comes to the multitude of costs of sickness we are exquisitely touchy. We buy our automobiles and radios and washing machines deliberately for cash or less deliberately on the deferred excitement plan. But our sickness—it is always thrust upon us when we are least able to buy it—when we really hadn't counted on it.

For this reason, especially, any cost is a big cost and all items of expense are seemingly high. A sober, dispassionate view of the facts through the spectacles of health might be instructive. During 1930 you may have been one of the 277 private room surgical patients in Jameson Memorial Hospital. This is the most expensive class of hospital illness. Understand it exactly; we are considering only PRIVATE ROOM surgical patients—not including semi-private room and ward patients. You paid from $4.50 to $8.00 per day—average $4.98—for your room and board, general nursing, medication and dressings; 58c per day on account of operating room; 56c per day because of anaesthesia; 14c per day, X-ray; 30c per day, laboratory; 6c per day of miscellaneous expense. In all, your expense was $6.62 per day, average, and you were in hospital 15.3 days, —$100.83 hospital bill.

An average person of good average tastes and good average appetite can not live in a good average room of a first class American hotel and be served three meals at a cost as low as $6.62 per day. And in your hospital the $6.62 also buys nursing, use of instruments, use of operating room, anaesthesia, laboratory work and the average fraction of X-ray procedure. Jameson Memorial Hospital is rendering a great community service in its handling of the problem of care of the patient of moderate means.

VINES

Written For Central Press
By DR. KARL F. KELLERMAN

U. S. Department Of Agriculture

Vines serve many decorative purposes. They have a distinctive charm and grace that endears them to the hearts of many gardeners.

For almost any effect, there is an appropriate vine. Suitable vines may be trained to create shady nooks that make the outdoors more inviting in warm weather. Sometimes it is mass of foliage at a house corner that is needed, or a festoon along the edge of a porch roof. Vines soften sharp outlines drape old trees, or decorate pergolas.

For trellises the wisteria offer attractive decorative effects. Although the purple and the white Chinese are best known, the long cluster and the American wisteria should not be overlooked. Virginia creeper, often called woodbine and five-leaf ivy, is also suitable for trellises; as are the hardier thicket creeper and a long list of near relatives found in catalogues under the heading Amelopsis. Other trellis vines are the trumpet creeper, also called Virginia creeper, the different kinds of climbing clematic and the bittersweet.

Best known among the vines that cling to walls are the Boston ivy, the Virginia creeper, and the smaller leaved Engelmann creeper. Instead of supporting themselves by winding tendrils, these vines cling by means of suckers or disks at the ends of the tendrils. Less hardy are climbing Euonymus and English ivy, evergreen vines that cling to walls.

Contrary to common belief, vines do not cause stone or brick houses to be damp and make the walls sweat, say horticulturists of the Bureau of Plant Industry. The leaves and serial rootlets tend to keep the wall dried.

COOK FOREST CHANGES MADE

New Trails Laid Out And 35,000 New Trees Set Out In This State Park

New Castle visitors who are in the habit of making a tour of Cook Forest, each year, will be forcibly struck by the changes and improvements made in the Forest during the winter season.

All signs which bore the words "No Trespassing" have been torn down, and in their stead have been erected "Welcome" signs.

Acres of rubbish have been burned, picnic equipment has been installed and 35,000 new trees planted to balance the forestration.

Cook Forest is a State Park, but it differs from other parks inasmuch as it is not dominated by concessions, there being only one stand in the vast acreage and this is under the close scrutiny of state officials as to the quality and price of refreshments served.

Each year thousands of tourists go through the vast forest and Sundays especially is a day of extra crowds.

The boundaries of the forest have all been surveyed, new trails have been laid out, two new roads completed, an 80 foot fire tower has been erected and all springs walled and closed to comply with the state health regulations.

WHAT DO WE GAIN

By the one lie that makes another a necessity?
By defeating one enemy and offering another hospitality?

By discarding God and making a religion out of the things we do not believe?
By economizing on necessities and wasting on luxuries?
By gaining wealth and losing the capacity for enjoying life?

Crowd Attends Afternoon Service

Mahoningtown Methodist Church Filled To Hear Spiritual Singers And Sermon

The Mahoningtown Methodist church doors were thrown open to a mass meeting Sunday afternoon, which was given under the auspices of the City Rescue Mission, B. J. Watkins, superintendent, and the church auditorium was filled with an audience anxious to hear the gospel message presented by Rev. C. A. Blackmore, superintendent of the Mission at Erie, and the Jubilee Singers.

The singing of the spiritual songs by the Jubilee singers was enthusiastically received by the audience and several request numbers were given. These messages in song come from the hearts of the singers and are presented in such a manner that they touch the hearts of the hearers.

Rev. C. A. Blackmore delivered a masterful sermon on "Seeing Through the Eyes of Jesus", not seeing only the crowd, but seeing the souls and their needs.

The meeting Sunday afternoon was opened with selections by the hurch choir after which B. J. Watins introduced the singers and peakers. Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church offered the opening prayer and the benediction.

Boughter To Try Poultry Raising

Purchases Hillendale Farm On Butler Road—Praises New Castle And Lawrence County

J. Richard Boughter has purchased from the Myers heirs, what is known as the Hillendale poultry and produce farm on the New Castle-Butler road. The farms consists of forty acres with good house and other buildings. Mr. Boughter now has a force of carpenters at work erecting additional chicken houses. He now has 1000 spring chicks and expects about 3000 more in a few days. He proposes to make the poultry farm one of the largest in this section.

Mr. Boughter, who has passed the greater part of his life in New Castle, moved to Baltimore, Md., about five years ago, but after giving that city a thorough trial he decided that there is no place like New Castle and Lawrence county and moved back. He says if the people who are dissatisfied and imagine that some place else is better, would do a little traveling around, they would soon be convinced that New Castle and surrounding territory is about the best place on the map.

Simple Funeral Planned Tuesday For Rich Banker

Simple Ceremony Will Mark Burial Tuesday Of Late George F. Baker

LEAVES ESTATE OF $500,000,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 4.—At simple funeral services, George F. Baker, rated only below Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller, Sr., among the world's richest men, will be buried tomorrow.

Services for the New York banker, who died of pneumonia Saturday evening at the age of 91 years, will be held at the Baker summer home in Tuxedo Park with leaders of finance and public officials in attendance. Interment will be in Kensico cemetery in the Baker vault where his wife is buried.

The list of pallbearers will be announced today.

In compliance with the banker's wishes there will be no honorary pallbearers.

Worth $500,000,000.

The Union League club announced a committee, including Elihu Root, Charles F. Hughes, Thomas W. Lamont, Henry J. Cochran and Charles M. Schwab to represent the organization of which Baker was for many years an active member.

Messages of condolence from all parts of the world, including those from President Hoover, John D. Rockefeller and J. Piermont Morgan, were received by the family. None was made public.

It was reported that the will would dispose of a fortune of about $500,000,000. George F. Baker, Jr., Mrs. William G. Loew and Mrs. Howard B. St. George were expected to inherit the income of the bulk of their father's fortune but the will will give millions to charity, it was anticipated.

Junior Rally Service Sunday

Lawrence County Rally Held In First Congregational Church Sunday Afternoon

The Junior Christian Endeavor rally of Lawrence county held Sunday afternoon in the Enon Valley church was a success in every sense of the word. The weather was all that could be desired and this aided greatly in the attendance.

There were 150 children and 100 adults in the audience and many churches of the county were represented.

Miss Lytle Storment was the guest speaker and made a good impression on the children. She is the teacher of Bible in Beaver Falls and is well qualified to speak at children's rallies.

Much credit is due the junior superintendent, Miss Myrtle Riley, for the arrangements for this successful event.

The prize banner was won by the children of the First Congregational church and Miss Ethel Thomas and Rev. R. T. Williams are to be congratulated upon the most excellent showing made by their society.

SEEDS WILL BE READY WEDNESDAY

Local Chapter Red Cross Will Distribute Seeds For Gardens This Wednesday

Orville Potter, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter of American Red Cross, announces this morning that all unemployed people of New Castle who have applied for free seeds and garden plots during the past several weeks will be given the seeds on Wednesday of this week.

All those people desiring the seeds are asked to report at the Red Cross or Associated Charities headquarters, 8½ East street, on Wednesday, not before.

This project of furnishing seeds and the use of a plowed garden plot to needy persons is being sponsored by the Federated Women's Clubs. The Federated Women have been investigating each case and will hand in their investigation cards to headquarters before Wednesday.

THE KING'S FIDDLERS

Old King Cole was a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul was he,
He called for his pipe and he called for his bowl,
And he called for his fiddlers three.

MY, my, what a rumpus when the robot appeared! It seems that the Prime Minister, in a fit of economy, had installed canned music and fired the King's rollicking fiddlers. The jolly old monarch was wroth.

But King Cole could remedy the trouble. He had only to order the robot to the attic, send for his beloved fiddlers, and have the Prime Minister publicly spanked.

Theatre patrons can't get action so swiftly. But they can insist on having their money's worth in the theatre by joining the Music Defense League. Sign and mail the coupon.

FRIENDS AVOID CATARRH VICTIMS

Disgusted By Repulsive Nature Of Disease. World's Tonic Helping Many

One of the worst features about catarrh is the disagreeable repulsive condition in which it places the victim. Many sufferers from catarrh actually try to avoid friends because they realize the repulsive nature of the disease they are suffering from.

There is constant ejection from the throat of a fetid, poisonous, offensive discharge from the nasal passages.

There is frequent hawking, spitting and coughing. At the same time the eyes are often weak and watery and the face emaciated and the breath foul. When catarrh reaches the stomach it usually causes indigestion, liver, kidney, bladder and bowel trouble. These things make the sufferer of catarrh disagreeable both to himself and those he comes in contact with.

Catarrh sufferers highly praise World's Tonic. They say it stops the dripping into the throat and the discharge of the nose almost at once. The necessity of hawking and spitting passes, the eyes grow stronger and the fullness in the head and headache soon leave.

World's Tonic is a systemic treatment that helps combat catarrh in different parts of the system and for that reason has brought astonishing results in many cases within a very short time.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Some fiend in human form has manufactured artificial worms that bear a resemblance to the genuine and that can be cut into designated lengths—the idea being to save anglers the toil of digging for bait.

That's on a par with the restaurant man, I know, who grates turnips, stirs in a little vinegar and serves the result in a bottle labeled "horseradish".

TELLING THE WORLD

A bright young gentleman in Tammany Town has embarked in the business of cleaning, pressing and rehabilitating vintage neckties—12 for a dollar.

Trade is so brisk he has been enabled to take on a small motor vehicle for deliveries. On the sides of the wagon are painted the words "Necktie Ambulance."

KNOWS HIS GROCERIES

A young bond salesman who slipped his moorings during the worst of last year's financial Big Blow, found himself some months ago with exactly $100 to his credit in the bank, and a convertible coupe in the garage.

He had a number of friends with homes and families. Naturally they all use coffee, tea, butter and eggs. The former bond salesman, cramming his "pride" into his pocket, contracted with these people to supply them wtih the aforementioned staples at a given normal price—deliveries guaranteed twice or three times a week. Then he negotiated with some wholesalers so that he'd have enough profit at the end of the week to compensate for his work.

The profits were not large, at first; but his friends, admiring his resourcefulness, told their friends. His business has increased and if he keeps on as he's been going, in a year or so he'll have developed into a sure enough Big Butter and Egg Man.

PROFOUND TRUTH

The other day a Broadway reporter invaded the dressing room of Her Serene Highness, Miss Peggy Joyce, at the Palace—The Seventh Heaven of Vaudeville. The object of the invasion was an interview.

"And whom," queried the scribe, fighting to keep off the subject of sex, "do you consider your favorite husband?"

"My next—always," said Peggy simply, chewing absentmindedly on an orchid.

Much more was said on both sides; but the interview never really got very far above the intellectual stratum of the foregoing.

HUMAN TOUCH

The king of Siam boarded a train in Westchester several days ago, bound for Washington. The inhabitants of the village on Tammany Town's doorstep swarmed to the depot to shake dada at the yellow-skinned potentate.

Everybody viva'd and huzzah'd and brava'd and bravo'd. Then came a lull in the hullaballoo, prompting a small boy in the assemblage to call lustily:

"So long, King!"

The visitor from Siam, grinned, turned sharply, caught the boy's eye and waved enthusiastically.

It was the only human note in the whole show.

THE MODERN CRY

"All we want is equality," says Doc. Alec Dallek, director of the National Sociological league.

"All we women want is equality," counters Mrs. Mildred Palmer, secretary of the National Woman's party.

You never heard them yipping like that in the good old days when men in the comic strips wore whiskers and women wielded rolling pins.

SOCIETY NOTE

Brass rails on home bars are being made narrower, to support the high arch of the lady guest. The sides of the bar itself are being trimmed in bamboo or modernistic woods, showing a sedate graining.

That's a sweet thought—having the graining "sedate".

Local Man Accepted For Navy Service

Jack P. Morgan, of 710 Harbor St has been accepted for service in the United States Navy and was sent by Chief Electrians Mate O. O. Piersen to the Great Lakes Training School where he will undergo nine weeks intensive training, preparatory to being assigned to one of the ships of the navy.

Few men are being accepted for service in the navy at the present time according to Chief Electrician's Mate Piersen, due to the fact that such a great percentage of the men, whose enlistments are expiring have been re-enlisting for further service. The result has been very few vacancies to be filled by new recruits.

Sweets must be improved—denatured foods are dwarfing us. WHAT SHALL WE EAT? Honey is a natural sweet; does not affect the kidneys—it is an energy food but less than other sweets. 7 ozs. honey equals 1 quart of milk, 10 eggs, 12 ounces steak or 5 oranges. City's Polish Folk Mark Adoption Of 1791 Constitution

Close To 500 Join Sunday For Anniversary Celebration Here

ASSEMBLAGE HEARS VISITING ORATORS

Together with Polish patriotic groups the nation over, New Castle's various Polish organizations assembled on Sunday to fittingly celebrate the 140th anniversary of the adoption of the first constitution of the Republic of Poland, known to all Polish folk as constitution of May 3, 1791.

Nearly 475 men and women, boys and girls and outside guests participated in the day's festivities, which opened with an afternoon speaking program and closed with a banquet in the evening. Ceremonies were held in the Polish Falcon hall, West Miller street.

Many Groups Join

Thirteen local patriotic groups, among them the different sections of the Polish National Alliance; the Polish Falcons; the Casimir Pulaski club; St. Michael's society, and a number of other Polish organizations, were represented in the anniversary observance.

Basil Mazurkiewicz, chairman of the Polish Central committee, ruling body of the combined Polish groups of the district, presided over the afternoon exercises. He called the assembly to order at 2 o'clock, and briefly summed up the purpose behind the celebration.

First introduced were Michael Gurgacz, chairman, and Mrs. Alexandra Kubinski, secretary of the committee which planned the day's program. They spoke briefly.

Three Orators Speak

Chief speakers during the afternoon were the Hon. Barton Richards, local assemblyman; Mrs. A. Cieslewicz, from Pittsburgh, secretary of the Polish National Alliance in the Western Pennsylvania district and Michael Holodnik of Farrell, vice president of the Polish National Alliance there.

Featuring the afternoon program was a song service, held by Joseph Noga, and the declamation of the Polish children. The singing and declamations came between the different addresses. The Polish Falcon orchestra also played.

Ends With Banquet

Nearly 150 of the celebrants attended the evening's banquet affair, held in the dining room of the hall. Mrs. Cieslewicz, one of the guest speakers, was toastmistress. Leading Polish men and women here spoke.

Practically all of the orations during the day were delivered in Polish, a few during the afternoon however being spoken in the English tongue.

The banquet event came to a close at 10:30 o'clock after Mrs. Cieslewicz and other speakers had stressed the importance and significance of the observance. The advance of education among the Polish people in America was also traced.

Missing Girl Being Hunted

Doris Louise Dempsey, 15, York, Pa., Has Been Missing Since April 22

IS BELIEVED IN NEW YORK CITY

By CROSWELL BOWEN, JR.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 4.—Broadway's chief points of interest were searched today in the quest for Doris Louise Dempsey, missing 15-year old York, Pa., heiress when it was learned that she herself had written a novel of romance and adventure based on life in New York.

Doris, a freshman at the York collegiate institute and a daughter of William W. Dempsey, wealthy lumberman of York, disappeared from home on the night of April 22 and ,with very little money in her purse, came to New York City.

Mrs. Elizabeth Corbin of the Missing Persons Bureau, who specializes in the work of finding lost persons, said today that the girl's father had told her of Doris' novel. He also revealed that she was a first class swimmer. On that tip, the principal swimming pools of the city were being watched.

The authorities, however, leaned to the theory that Doris craved adventure—that she came to Broadway in the hopes of glimpsing some of the glamourous personalities she had read about, and perhaps see the prototypes of those she had written about in her book.

Leaders Gather On Slow Time Tonight

Boy Scout Training Course Continues With Church Class At 7:30

The fourth session of the Boy Scout leaders' training course for New Castle district leaders will be held tonight at the First Christian church at 7:30 o'clock, standard time.

The main topic tonight is "First Aid" and methods, material and demonstrations will be put on during this time. It is noticeable that at the Western Pennsylvania safety contest at Carnegie Tech, June 13, that the companies have chosen scout problems this year, and will use the handbook for boys' first aid work as a criterion.

There are two patrols in the New Castle district group, the owls and the brass tacks. Ellwood district has three grouups, the hoot owls, the beavers, and the "X" patrol. This district holds meetings on Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock, daylight time. Both courses are the same content. The Ellwood men at their meeting last week, voted to hold the second six sessions of the course, in the fall; and New Castle men will vote on this question tonight. All students are asked to be present on time.

Talkie Exhibition Given For Clubs

Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions Join For Luncheon Demonstration Today

A. T. & T. EXPERT CONDUCTS PROGRAM

Intricate mysteries of the modern motion picture "talkie," the secrets of which scientific research has brought together the instrumentalities of vision with the instrumentalities of sound, were unfolded today in a 45-minute demonstration-lecture which Dr. J. O. Perrine of New York, American Telephone & Telegraph company development engineer, gave before a joint meeting of the city's Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs at the Castleton.

The hotel dining room, taxed to capacity by the members of the three clubs, was fitted up especially for the demonstration by Dr. Perrine and his assistants. The Rotarians played the part of hosts since it was their customary meeting hour.

Dr. Perrine, who consumed the entire time with a preliminary message and demonstration, was introduced by Chairman William Bingham of the Rotary's program committee. W. T. McCullough, president of Rotary, presided. Presidents of the Kiwanis and Lions clubs were also presented before Dr. Perrine spoke.

Mrs. Jacob F. Rentz, present as a representative of the city's Garden club, briefly reviewed that organization's plans for a city-wide garden raising campaign. She urged the clubmen to lend their support to the measure which will aid the local unemployed.

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. engineer, well qualified to speak today, joined the Bell laboratories in 1921 and since then has been devoting his time to experimentation and research. His subject was "The Contribution of Telephone Research to the Talking Picture".

In the motion picture demonstrations were shown the highly-developed electrical apparatus which today allows motion picture audiences to hear sounds as well as see acting in the motion picture studios. The technical points of the apparatus were explained in an understandable way by Dr. Perrine.

The Rotarians of the city will meet next Monday noon for their annual election of officers and directors.

Today's luncheon substituted for the regular Tuesday and Wednesday meetings of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs.

Make Arrests For Tearing Down Boxes

Interference with anything pertaining to the U. S. mail generally results in quick action and as the result of approximately 40 rural mail boxes having been torn down in Edenburg vicinity, two young men are in jail, awaiting sentence. They are Frank Chucz and Samuel Devite, Mahoning township. They are charged with malicious mischief.

As soon as Postmaster Robb informed the State police of the boxes having been torn down Friday night, State Policeman Richards, Geceloskey and Constable Mee were assigned to the case. They arrested the two young men who pleaded guilty before Alderman W. E. Marshall here and are in jail, in default of $1,000 bail.

"Parrot Fever" Fatal To Three At Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh Officials Probe Deaths Of Three Believed Psittacosis Victims

FIVE OTHERS REPORTED ILL

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 4.—With three persons already dead and five others ill, all believed victims of the dread psittacosis, commonly known as parrot fever, Pittsburgh physicians and Dr. Charles Maits, director of health, collaborated today in an investigation of the deaths.

First suspicion that psittacosis caused the three deaths was aroused when it was learned that parrots were owned in the families of those stricken. The dead were Mrs. Anna L. Wiegand; her father, Joseph J. Lindner, 61, and Mrs. Ella M. Weiss.

Mrs. Wiegand and her father died Thursday after being stricken suddenly while attending Harry Lindner who fell ill after the death of a pet parrot. Mrs. Weiss was reported to have returned recently with her husband from a tropical tour where they collected eight "Love Birds," a species of small parrot. The husband, Harry Weiss, also became ill but recovered and was discharged from a hospital here.

Hospital physicians who had diagnozed Mrs. Weigand's illness as pneumonia expressed surprise over the psittacosis theory but planned an investigatiion of the case histories of the victims.

Proper diagnosis of psittacosis is difficult, physicians said, because of the marked similarity in the symptoms of pneumonia, typhoid fever and "parrot fever."

Bootlegger Is Given Choice

Either Workhouse Term Or "Tell All" Judge Tells Westmoreland County Man

MUST DECIDE HIS OWN FATE

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 4.—Paul Balestrieri, notorious for his bootlegging activities in Fayette and Westmoreland counties, today was faced with the alternative of exposing racketeering activities in the two precincts or serving his eighteen months sentence in the Allegheny county workhouse.

Judge Davis W. Henderson issued the edict when Balestrieri, a resident of Tarr, Westmoreland county, applied for a parole from his sentence. The court was asked to investigate a rumor that Balestrieri's attorney had received a fee greater than the bootlegger's fine of $750 for persuading the man to plead guilty.

The decision of the court was made after District Attorney J. B. Adamas demanded that the "confessed bootlegger make complete revelations of the traffic before his request far parole be considered."

Balestrieri was given time to consider the ultimatum and the court reserved disposition of his case.

Ministers Meet In Castleton Today

Plans Formulated For Huge Mass Meeting In Cathedral Sunday, June 14

The New Castle Ministerial association of the city met this morning in The Castleton with Rev. D. C. Schnebly, president, in charge of the business meeting.

The Law and Order committee of the association were appointed to make arrangements for a meeting with council to protest against Sunday golf as a commercial undertaking and not upholding the moral standing of the community.

Rev. Sam Maitland, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, and Rev. D. D. Sleppy were appointed to make preliminary arrangements for the mass meeting to be held in the cathedral on Sunday, June 14, when Evangelist Booth of the Salvation Army will be the speaker.

Rev. C. A. Blackmore of Erie, who is conducting evangelistic meetings in the city under the auspices of the City Mission, was the speaker of the morning.

Gould Heiress Weds

sometimes as many as four evenings a week, and was there often until midnight and 1 o'clock in the morning.

When asked why he had made these visits, he stated that he knew Mrs. Emery was alone and lonely, and that he merely went over to her home to keep her company.

It was brought out by Mr. Braham that he had his mail come to Mrs. Emery's house and also received telephone calls there.

Deny McMahon Testimony.

Permission to place D. M. McMahon, husband of Mrs. Esther McMahon, on the stand was denied the defense, Judge Chambers ruling that he could not testify against his wife, who was the plaintiff in the case, and that nothing that he would say would be competent.

The defense stated that they felt he would be competent to testify to certain things, if permission was granted by the plaintiff's attorneys, but the court held further that it would be impossible for him to testify at all, and he was withdrawn. The plaintiff's attorneys registered a formal objection to him testifying.

Indications are that the testimony in the case will be concluded this afternoon, and before evening may go to the jury.

When court opened this morning, Dan Fusco, who resides across the street from Mrs. Emery, was on the stand. He was being cross-examined by Attorney Braham for the plaintiff.

Morning Session.

Did you say you heard Mr. Hendrix state that he would get even with Mrs. Emery if it was the last thing he ever did? he was asked by Attorney Braham.

"Yes," he replied.

"You didn't say that Saturday."

"I wasn't asked that because court adjourned."

"Did anyone talk to you about this case since Saturday?"

"Yes, Mrs. Emery did."

"And you used to go over to Mrs. Emery's and stay until 12 and 1 o'clock at night, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"And you had your mail come there, didn't you?"

"Yes, because they opened it at home."

"And you had your telephone calls come there?"

"Yes, because it made my father sore when girls called me up."

"Weren't you denied the freedom of your own home by your father?"

"No sir."

"Didn't Mr. Hendrix forbid you to come around there because you were accused of stealing a camping outfit?"

"No sir."

On direct examination again he stated that he had gone to New York and Philadelphia with Mr. and Mrs. Hendrix the summer after the camping outfit had been reported stolen.

"How old are you, Mr. Fusco?" Mr. Braham asked.

"Twenty," he replied.

"And you have been going over to Mrs. Emery's for the last two years?"

"Yes sir."

William D. Fullerton of 928 Warren avenue was called. He said he lived about eight houses away from Mrs. Emery and is manager of the Lawrence Laundry company.

"It was stated by Mr. Hendrix that you watched the Emery home is that true?"

Objection was raised by Mr. Braham that no reference had been made to Mr. Fullerton and the testimony was referred back to through Miss Ryhal, court stenographer.

The question was reframed them. Mr. McMahon was asked to stand up and Mr. Fullerton was asked if he had ever seen him at the Emery home. He said not and said he had never watched the Emery home.

Louise Frazier, a little girl residing at 1607 East Washington street testified that she knew Elizabeth Irvine and saw her at Mrs. Emery's home about the middle of July. Her sister Irene Frazier was there, she said. She said she had seen Mr. McMahon at the Emery home at that time. Irene Frazier her sister gave similar testimony.

She said Elizabeth Irvine had stayed at the Emery home for two weeks.

D. M. McMahon was called by the defense. He is the husband of the plaintiff.

The court stated that he was in incompetent witness as he could not testify against his wife. The court ruled that even without the consent of the other side he could not.

Mr. Braham then made a formal objection which was sustained by the court.

Time-Keeper Called

J. J. McCarthy of Cuyahoga Falls, O., transportation time keeper of B. and O. was called. He stated Mr. Mahon was employed as a passenger brakeman by the B. and O. during 1930.

He was asked to produce time slips of D. M. McMahon which were placed in evidence as exhibits E to O of the defendant being records kept during the months from February to December inclusive.

Cros examined and asked if these time slips were taken to Akron in person by the employes and are not made out at the place the men are employed. He replied that that was true.

He was asked if he had seen Mr. McMahon sign these time slips and he replied that he had not.

Mr. Braham then asked that the answer of the witness be stricken out.

He was then asked by Mr. Dickey if he had even seen Mr. McMahon write his name and he said that he had.

On cross examination, he was asked if he had any distinct recollection of any time that he had seen him do it, and then Mr. Braham objected to the compentency of the witness which was over-ruled.

On February 3rd and February 4th and other dates, his signature was attested to on the time slips by Mr. McCarthy.

Mr. Braham objected to the question "if these days were dates on which Mr. McMahon worked" because the witness had no personal knowledge of this fact which objection was sistained.

The witness attested to dates on which Mr. McMahon worked according to the time slips on which his signature appeared. On some of these days there were two slips, meaning that he was paid for two passenger days or for two trips, such as one trip from New Castle Junction to Williard, O., and one trip from Williard, O., back to New Castle Junction.

He stated in answer to the question of Mr. Dickey that Williard, O. is 140 miles west of New Castle.

He was asked to show the hours which Mr. McMahon worked according to the time slips. Attorney Braham objected and the objection was sustained.

Mr. Braham cross examined the witness at this point. He asked if it was entered on the records when a man made any run at all and he stated that it was.

The time sheets were then again offered in evidence and objected to as being no proper proof of the contents. The objection was over-ruled.

Mr. McCarthy was asked to read from the slips and Attorney Braham objected stated that the exhibits themselves were the best evidence. Attorney Dickey clashed with Mr. Braham over the point but the objection was sustained.

Mr. Braham asked what the average running time was between New Castle Junction and Willard, O. and Mr. McCarthy stated it was about four hours and twenty minutes, but that payment was made for seven hours and thirty minutes.

Mr. Dickey then proceeded to read from the slips the time recorded for Mr. McMahon, each daily record being read in detail.

Court adjourned for noon recess.

Statement was made today by F. L. Wimer of J. L. Wimer and Son, whose suit against Mrs. Anna Robl over a painting bill was settled out of court Saturday, to the effect that the case was settled for $25 less than the full amount of the claim of $381.25. Mrs. Robl, in answer to the suit, claimed that she only owed the plaintiffs $141.25. The case was to have been tried Saturday morning before Judge Hildebrand, but a settlement was made just previous to the case being called.

Protests Against National Tax On Gasoline Sales

Proposed One-Cent National Gasoline Tax Will Be Strongly Opposed

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 4.—Nationwide opposition will be voiced against the proposal to levy a national gasoline tax of one cent per gallon in addition to the state fuel taxes, according to a statement today of C. H. Roth, vice-president of the American Motorists' Association and secretary of the Pittsburgh Motor Club.

The proposed tax, advocated by Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, is to compensate the government for the Federal-Aid highway program. Roth said:

"Motorists last year paid a total of $878,000,000 in registration and gasoline taxes. The proposed tax, adding another 137 millions to the burden of motorists, would mean of a billion dollars per year in motor vehicles taxes to be paid by motorists in addition to personal and other general revenues."

TRACK TEAM WINS THIRD GENEVA MEET

Hight School Athletes Come Home From Beaver Falls In Blaze Of Glory

New Stars Are Developed—Dunn Unfortunate In Hurdle Race

ELLWOOD CITY, May 4.—Coach Todd Lloyd and his Ellwood City high track team returned to the home town in a blaze of glory Saturday evening as they came away from the third annual Geneva Interscholastic Track and Field meet at Reeves stadium, Beaver Falls with three trophies (including the meet trophy) 17 medals, and 3 records. There were 65 schools represented with total of 1,100 athletes competing.

The meet was an all day duel between the two traditional rivals, Ellwood and New Castle. The former copped the meet with a score of 24 1-5 points and the latter coming second with 18 points. It was Joe Welsh that gave the locals the lead when he placed third in the 220 yard dash. The score had been 18-17 1-5 for New Castle when Welsh added 3 points to the Ellwood score. Then Sam Neff sewed matters up by adding 4 points to this with a second place in the javelin throw.

This is the third consecutive season that Ellwood cinder teams have maintained their Class B title and last Saturday went to further glory by winning the meet trophy. The whole community proudly views the spoils of victory on display at one of the show windows in town. It seems as if Lincoln High school will have to provide for a new show case for trophies before the season is over.

As forecasted Todd Lloyd's hurdles team was not only dangerous but formidable. Ralph Strouse, a sophmore presented a record for the 120 yard low hurdles for future high school hurdlers to attain here. After being out hurdled by his team mate, Mike Dunn, state low hurdles champion, all day, he turned the tables in the finals and smashed all records with a time of 13 4-5 seconds. Dunn was leading the pack in this race when he stumbled over the next to the last hurdle, but managed to come in fourth which added up the Ellwood score. Twice Dunn had equalled the field record and his state record in the trials of the low hurdles of 14 seconds and it is believed would have done better in the finals had he not stumbled.

The shuttle hurdles team of Eugene Cavalier, Bill Pander, Paul Kuben, and Ralph Strouse set a new field record of 59 seconds. This event would not be considered a race—the local team taking it by a great margin with plenty of yards to spare. Dunn was scheduled to run in this race but had suddenly disappeared and could not be located. Cavalier who ran in the Ambridge meet was substituted, and held his own for the distance.

A record of 47 2-5 seconds in the 440 sprint relay race in Class B was also made by the Ellwood team composed of John Sheeler, Pander, Paul Kubin, and Welsh. It was a thrilling race as Welsh the last man made up 7 yards on the home stretch to beat an opponent to the tape.

It is believed that Ellwood would have won the meet with 10 more points had not some unusual incidents occurred. In the semi-finals of the 120 yard high hurdles Mike Dunn cleared the last hurdle about 5 yards ahead of Grimm of New Brighton. Smith of East Palestine was behind Grimm. Dunn turned his head and seeing the condition slackened his speed to reserve for the finals. As a result the two men mentioned beat him to the tape and thus disqualifying him for the finals.

Paul MacMurdo, ace of the W. P. I. A. L. half-milers with a time of 2:02 and a fraction seconds was resting in the bleachers while his specialty was going on. It was won by Fugati of East Liverpool with a time of 2:09 seconds. MacMurdo had informed one of his team mates to come and call him when his event was announced. The team mate had forgotten to do so and MacMurdo was not aware of the race until after the start.

Computing 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, points respectively for places and with the relay races not counting in the scoring this is how Ellwood High school was pronounced winner of the Third Geneva Inter-scholastic meet:

Strouse—120 high hurdles—3 points.
Lincoln—mile—2 points.
MacMurdo—440 yard dash—3 points.
Strouse—120 yard low hurdles—5 points.
Dunn—120 yard low hurdles—2 points.
Kennedy—half-mile—1 point.
Welsh—220 yard dash—3 points.
Hooker—pole-vault (tied for third)—1 1-5 points.
Neff—javelin throw—4 points.

Strouse was high scorer for the locals with 8 points and Neff was second contributing 4.

Other local athletes who were active in the meet are Kenneth Zeigler, Bob Johnson, Logue, Vincki, Bob Streeter, Judd Cunningham and Crowe.

EMMANUEL REFORMED

PROCLAMATION

To the People of Ellwood City:—

Believing that it is our patriotic duty to promote and protect the general welfare and that the present needs make it more urgent that every person do all in his power to encourage, develop and sustain those agencies which have been established for the care of the needy and sick, therefore

I, Judd C. Turner, Burgess of Ellwood City, in order to promote and develop that spirit of civic cooperation which makes citizens conscious of their neighbor and the needs of the community in general, do hereby set aside the week of May 18th as Community Chest Week earnestly asking each one to give from the richness of our hearts and fortune.

Let us give and give generously, recognizing that the need has never been greater. As we do this together, our lives and this beloved city of our homes will be blessed.

To which I do hereby set my hand and seal.

Judd C. Turner,

Ellwood Trackmen Prepare For Beaver Valley Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, May 4.—With the Geneva Interscolastic meet safely tucked away the Ellwood High cinder pounders reported for training this afternoon in preparation for the Beaver Valley Interscholastic meet to be held at Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, Saturday.

Due to the showing of unheralded stars Ellwood High is favored to maintain its Beaver Valley crown. With Strouse capably filling Dunn's shoes and Lincoln's improvement in the half-mile to take the place of MacMurdo Ellwood's chances beam hopeful again. Louis Hooker's chances of copping the pole vault are very bright since he had attained a height of 11 feet last Saturday at Geneva. Welsh who had taken ill at the semi-finals of the 100 yard dash in the Geneva meet is reported well again, and is expected to have a much better showing.

In comparing the records of the Beaver Valley schools at Geneva Ellwood seems to have the better of the argument which is a further point in retaining their title.

The W. P. I. A. L. competition is scheduled for the following Saturday.

Feree Is Held After Accident

Complete Plans For Chest Drive

Arrangements Are Completed For Campaign For $27,500

FUND DIVISION PLAN ANNOUNCED

ELLWOOD CITY, May 4.—With the issuance of the official proclamation by Burgess J. C. Turner this morning setting aside the week of May 18 as Community Chest week, arrangements are rapidly being completed for the annual campaign to refill the coffers for Ellwood's welfare and relief agencies.

The directors of the Community Chest, after considerable study and deliberation of present conditions and future needs of the various agencies in the chest and considering the difficulties which confront the campaign this year, the total budgets which will comprise this year's goal has been set at $10,000 less than last year. The goal this year is $27,500.

The agencies have been divided into three groups based upon the welfare needs of the community Group one includes the Community Service league which has been allotted $11,260. This will also include the Salvation Army, American Red Cross and disabled veterans relief.

Group two is the Ellwood hospital which has been allotted $14,450 which includes interest on the building fund but no payment on the principal, maintenance and retirement of deficit on last year's maintenance.

Group three includes the Girl and Boy Scouts with a total of $1790 divided as follows: Boy Scouts $1250 and Girl Scouts $540.

In the event that the goal is not reached in the campaign then the funds raised will be distributed in the order of grouping and will not be pro rated. However, it is hoped that Ellwood will respond to the present emergency and care for its own by oversubscribing the fund asked. There will be a greater need than ever for welfare and relief work in the coming year. Ellwood has never failed in former years to provide for its unfortunates and the directors are looking to the citizenry to share more than ever this year since the need is greater.

Entrance Exams At High Schools

Forty One Take Examinations At Lincoln School On Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 4.—County eighth grade examinations to determine the fitness for high school entrance were conducted in 15 centers of Beaver and Lawrence County Saturday afternoon.

Forty one pupils took the examination in the Lincoln High School with Prof. J. Ellis Bell and Mrs. Louise W. Fisher in charge. Gerald Muder and Mrs. Emma Ronck Brown directed affairs of 48 pupils at Koppel and W. G. Lambert, Beaver County Superintendent of Schools and George W. Sipe were in charge of 44 pupils at the North Star School on the Frisco road. The examination as of former times was conducted in the nearest high school to the student.

W. G. Lambert who was recently elected to his position introduced a new and much better form of examination than previously taken. It is known as the "Standard Graduation Examination for Elementary School, Form B," and is in the form of an objective test. This covers much more ground and can be completed in a shorter time. With this examination the teacher must fill out an estimate sheet of the eighth grade pupils in which she judges the physical and intellectual ability of her pupil. If a student is a failure or makes a high grade he must be accounted for. The estimate sheet of the pupil leads to a conference with the teacher and any error in judging the character of the student will be corrected. The estimate is really a measure of the pupil's ability. "The real value of this lies in the fact that it makes the teacher think seriously of her pupils and thus become students of human nature," states Superintendent Lambert.

An attractive new diploma for the low grades was also introduced with the new system which will be used henceforth.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record right in this city, that Eckerd's, New Castle Drug Co., says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your Pile agony or money back.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS — BY RUBE GOLDBERG

Firpo And Bruce To Fight Tonight

Battlers Ready For Their 10 Round Scrap At Castle Bowl

PRELIMINARY SCRAPS START AT 8:15 E. S.

That ancient riddle "How good is Henry Firpo?" may be solved tonight when Sam Bruce, Buffalo, N. Y., and Firpo toss gloves in a bout scheduled to go 10 rounds at Castle bowl. They're here, "in the pink" and raring for action.

The first preliminary scrap will start promptly at 8:15 p. m. Eastern Standard time, and if talk heard in all the factories, mills, shops and along the streets is a criterion there'll be an old-fashioned bout with thousands of fans in the bowl. The Bruce-Firpo scrap is a "natural" here and fans are on edge, awaiting the sound of the bell.

Bruce arrived here Friday and had two workouts. He took on Tom Farrow, a heavyweight and Tom couldn't land a glove on him. In his next training siege he met Pete George, Buffalo light-heavyweight. Bruce's speed was dazzling, science beautiful and he displayed a good right hand "kick".

In Good Shape

Firpo did not arrive until Sunday and he immediately went to the gymnasium of Bob Latera. He skipped the rope, punched big and small bags, wrestled and went through half a dozen rounds of shadow boxing. He seemed just as fast as ever and fore the smile that has featured all his fights here.

Bruce has fought all the leading fighters in his division but tonight he will be outweighed, because he wanted to fight Firpo. Bruce, it must be explained, fights anybody who wants to fight from 147 to 160. He doesn't mind taking on middles anymore than he does welters.

When he fought Jackie Fields, former welterweight champion at Buffalo, the scrap was referred by Jimmy Goodrich, former lightweight champion who termed the bout "a perfect draw." Nevertheless it went down as a victory for the champion.

Has Fought Champions

He followed this with a redhot scrap with Jackie Thompson, the welterweight champion of the world and lost the decision, but they will box again. Not so long ago he fought Bucky Lawless and Jack Dempsey referred the scrap. Bruce knocked Lawless down for three counts and won the award easily.

Sam made a great hit when he fought Madison Dix, the Scotch-Irish battler in Madison Square garden and he has the reputation for fighting every minute and of giving the fans action for their dollars and believes he will stop Firpo here tonight.

He bases this on the fact that he won from Firpo last October. Bruce said he had Firpo down for a count and that had the bout been listed for more than six chapters he would have scored a knockout. To this Firpo has something to say and yesterday he unburned himself.

Been "Going Good"

"When I fought Bruce I was not in good condition. In fact I had been ill. I needed money and I had to fight to get it. I weighed 153 when I crawled into the ring. I wasn't at my best. I'm back home tonight, in the ring where I have had success. I'm in shape so just watch me. I'm going in to do or die."

Firpo has been a pugilistic question since the first day he arrived here. Red Jadabird was going big guns and Firpo cuffed him around like a toothpick in a sea. He continued to crawl up the ladder and the only two boys who really gave him good fighters were Jack Dillion and Johnny Burns.

He fought Dillion a second time and won the decision then took on Burns, a real star at the time. Firpo gave him a great fight. At the start it looked as though he would win handily but as Johnny got his left jab and right uppercut going, he managed to shade the Louisville fighter.

Since leaving this section Henry has been boxing in the south and according to his manager has won his last nine fights. Among his knockout victims was Jack Dillion, the boy who gave Henry a hard scrap here. If Dillion hasn't slipped it shows that Firpo has progressed.

The rivals are scheduled to fight at 158 pounds. Bruce said today he would probably weigh 152 and Firpo said he would weigh about 156. They will weigh at three o'clock, Eastern Standard time at the bowl. Larry Gent or Mike Kane of the athletic commission will weigh them in.

Hot Semifinal

The semifinal between Jimmy Thomas of Pittsburgh and Pete Mazeo, Cleveland, scheduled to weigh 120 pounds and go six chapters should be as hot a scrap as local fans have seen for some time. Thomas and Mazeo have fought and made good here and with considerably rivalry between them action looks promising.

Should Thomas drop the fight to Mazeo it appears as though it will cost him a shot with Willie Davies in Pittsburgh soon. Thomas only hope, he said when the match was made, is that Mazeo will fight. On the other hand, Jimmy Avon, the dapper Cleveland signor declares Pete will fight from bell to bell.

Marshal Couette, Cleveland and Al Gruver, Akron, 130 pounders, will clash in a four round bout. No two boys are more popular here. Couette has not lost a tilt here and Gruver, in his only appearance, made good with Jackie Ward. He took off about four pounds a few hours before his bout with Ward and got a draw.

8:15 P. M. Eastern Standard

Ray Ritchie and Young Di Muccio, New Castle 122 pounders will meet in a return bout. They fought a spectacular battle a few months ago and as they hail from different sections of the city will have plenty of folk to cheer them on when the first bell rings. The scrap is scheduled for four rounds.

There should be no dearth of swings and hard jolts when Nick Gruber the Aliquippa heavyweight tackles Warren Farrow, who once was a funmaker at the bowl. Warren has become serious and believes that he can beat Nick. It will be a good opener anyway as they want to get set here for the summer season.

The first bout will start at 8:15 p. m. Eastern Standard, which is 9:15 p. m. daylight savings time. As soon as the clock strikes 8:15, Pete Capitola will hammer the gong and the fisticuff season of the summer will be here. The officials will be selected by Harvey Boyle, commissioner of the state athletic body.

Players of last season's Union Township high school basketball team will be feted and awarded for outstanding work when the third annual basketball banquet is given in the school's gymnasium, Thursday evening, May 7, under the auspices of Union's Parent-Teacher association.

At 6:30 a chicken dinner will be served with a program following the feed. No speaker has been announced.

THOMPSON PULLS SURPRISE PLAY

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 4. —"LaFayette, here we are," a famous American was once supposed to have said, but the good word today was: "This is me, Lafayette."

Lafayette Fresco Thompson, who recently completed a sentence with the Phillies, was the inspiration of the Bon Mot. For Thompson made the eyes of a record crowd of more than 35,000 fans in Ebbets field stand out like the pillars of Brooklyn bridge against a dying sun, when he stole second base and then committed grand larceny of home to figure heavily in the Robins' 4 to 3 triumph over the Giants.

When O'Doul hit a bad bounder to Terry back of first, Thompson dashed all the way from second to score, his trilling slide lifting Catcher Hogan right off his carneras. As Hogan came out of the dust he carried the ball and the expression of a man in the subway who just rode past his station. Dazzy Vance piloted the Robins to their third win in a row. Johnny Frederick got a homer off Carl Hubbell.

Babe Ruth Returns

The great invalid, Babe Ruth, now existing on nothing but toast and alcohol rubs, returned to the fray and whacked two hits that aided the Yankees to trample the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 3. Sherid yielded only six hits to Boston.

A homer by Simmons and some good hurling by Walberg furnished the Athletics a 3 to 1 decision over Washington. Cronin's homer saved the Senators a whitewashing.

The Cardinals swept the three games series with the Cubs, annexing the finale 5 to 4 in 11 innings. With runners on first and third, Gelbert's bunt brought the run that won.

Kremer was effective in the opener, Pittsburgh setting down the Cincy Reds, 6 to 3, but four Pirate hurlers were picked on in the evening shadows affair, Cincinnati blackboarding it, 10 to 5.

Ferrell Wins Again

West Ferrell pitched Cleveland to another win, trouncing Detroit 7 to 4. It was his fifth triumph of the season. Vosmik homered for the winners.

Whitney topped Ray Benge's six-hit mound work with a homer with one on to mark it up for the Phillies over the Boston Braves, 4 to 1.

Six hits off Tommy Thomas and a couple of errors by the Chicago White Sox was enough for the St. Louis Browns to score seven runs in one inning and they recorded it, 9 to 5.

Lehigh-Radiators Will Play Tuesday

The Lehigh Radiators will battle in a mushball game at the Lehigh Field at 6:45 o'clock Daylight Saving Time on Tuesday night, it was announced today by Manager Gus Thompson of the Lehigh team. This is a warm up for the league season that starts in two weeks.

Burlesque Troupe In Wheeling Arrested

"Indecent Performance" Causes Police To Halt Wheeling Burlesque Show

(International News Service)

WHEELING, May 4.—Reenactment of the "indecent performance" arrests which held up larger town productions of the Vanities, the Follies, and the like had been staged here today.

Eighteen members of a burlesque company, entertaining at the Empire Theatre here, were arrested on charges of participating in an obscene performance. Of the fourteen girls arrested, the youngest is reported to have fainted when brought into court.

Bonds were posted for the company, and all indications were that regular performances would continue today.

HOLDUP SUSPECT ASSESSED A FINE

As Alex Coulter of Hamilton street, was enroute home Saturday evening, he noticed that he was being followed. When he reached home, Mr. Coulter went into his house and had another resident of the house watch the man following him, while he notified Officer Thomas.

When Officer Thomas arrived on the scene, he took the man into custody. He searched the man, who gave the name of Dimitri Zuk and found that he had a cap tucked under his coat. He was wearing a hat.

Suspecting that he might be the man, who attempted to hold up David Taylor, the night previous, Zuk was sent to the police station on a suspicion charge.

This morning as he had not been connected up with any holdup, he was assessed a fine of $10, which he paid.

Refinery Unit To Be Built Soon At Bradford, Penna

Addition Will Enlarge Kendall Refinery Plant At Bradford

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 4.—A contract for a refinery distilling unit to be built at Bradford, Pa., with a capacity of 75,000 barrels per month has been awarded by the Kendall Refining company to Alco Products Incorporated, a division of the American Locomotive company, it was announced today.

To be built as an addition to the Kendall refinery located at Bradford, the unit will be one of the largest of its type in the Pennsylvania district. It will be ready for operation by September.

This unit is to be used, according to officials of the Kendall company, to process the lubribating fractions obtained from 4,000 barrels per day of Pennsylvania crude oil for the production of high quality finished motor oils.

Fabrication of the equipment to be used in the construction of the unit will take place in the shops of the American Locomotive company at Dunkirk, N. Y. A high degree of flexibility has been incorporated in the design, officials state, to obtain economy of operation and superior products.

The first lending library in the United States, the Library Company of Philadelphia, founded by Benjamin Franklin, will be 200 years old this summer.

Narrow Price Range In Today's Market

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 4.—Stock prices in the early trading today swung through a narrow radius with fractional gains and losses well sprinkled through the active list.

Though the death of George F. Baker, veteran banker and a director of scores of important corporations was greatly regretted in Wall Street, the passing of this great financier was without any disturbing effect on the stock market. For ten years or more, Mr. Baker has been quietly transferring his huge corporate holdings to his son and to investment institutions operated in line with his policies. It is believed that the inheritance taxes on his vast estate will be paid in U. S. government bonds, thus necessitating the liquidation of few if any security holdings.

Transactions in the first half-hour totalled only half as many shares as in the same period last Friday and price changes were extremely narrow. Reduction of Copper prices to as low as 9 cents a pound for small lots was reported in Wall street and the Copper shares slumped off moderately. The Rails started the new week at slightly higher price levels and retained their gains into the second hour. U. S. Steel opened at 114½, rallied to 116 and sold in fairly good volume at 115½. General Electric, General Motors, Westinghouse etc were without special feature and the same was true of the leading Utilities.

Desertion of the bear ranks by a number of big traders was reported, on the ground of "too much company." These traders have withdrawn from the market for the time being. The Grain and Cotton markets were steady with Wheat up fractionally and Cotton 4 to 7 points higher. Call money was unchanged at 1½ per cent.

Hawks Willing To Race For America If Given Airplane

Captain Frank Hawks Would Like To Represent America In Cup Races

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 4.—Captain Frank Hawks, hailed over here as the "human bullet" of America, is willing to risk his life in an attempt to win the world's air sped record for America if someone will provile him with a suitable machine.

Hawks, who holds half a dozen speed records, told International News Service he would like nothing better than to participate in the Schneider cup races which are scheduled to be held over the solent in September.

"I sure would like to pilot a machine for America, but who's going to give me the machine?" he asked.

"It's too bad we won't be represented in the race. We could easily build a 'plane that would give them something to think about, but it would cost money—and that's about as easy to get as it is to fly over the Swiss Alps."

Norwegians Will Try To Discourage Wilkin's Attempt

Norway Is Against Hubert Wilkins' Plan To Take Sub To North Pole

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 4.—The Norwegian government may take active measures to prevent Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins from making his projected journey to the north pole in a submarine, it was stated in an exchange telegraph dispatch from Oslo today.

The message quoted the Oslo newspaper Arbeiderbladet as saying the government considers the expedition as an "unnecessary risk of human life." If the Wilkins expedition calls at Norway en route to the pole, the dispatch said, the government plans to enforce the regulations enabling it to exercise definite control over all Arctic expeditions starting from that country.

Interested Listeners

When Provisional President Zamora, of Spain (inset), broadcast his message to America the other day, two of the most interested listeners in New York were Countess Olga Albini of Spain, and John DeJara Alimonte. Mr. Alimonte, a former Spanish count, is an executive of the National Broadcasting Company which, in cooperation with the Hearst Radio Service, arranged the broadcast. Under a ruling of the Republican Government all Spanish nobility titles have been voided.

Financial Status Of Prosecutor Ray Thomas Is Revealed To Public

SPECIAL JUDGES SITTING ON CASE

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 4.—Public interested raised to fever pitch by previous disclosures of the financial condition of Ray Thomas, Mahoning County's Prosecutor, today awaited the opening of the special grand jury investigation of the relation between the Ohio Edison Company and the city's officials.

Judge David G. Jenkins, who wrote the opening enjoining the merger of Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet and Tube, will be the first witness on the stand according to present plans. Harry Engle, the deposed traction commissioner, against whom sensational charges precipitated the present investigation, was to follow Judge Jenkins to the stand.

Attorneys Fred J. Heim and David F. Kennedy will direct the investigation which has involved some of Youngstown's most prominent citizens and officials behind "closed doors," they announced.

Big Bank Account.

Thomas, who it was reported went into the prosecutor's office eight years ago as a man of moderate means under a new salary of less than $5000 a year, was found to have had on deposit in Youngstown banks a total of $85,744 in accounts under his own name and those of members of his family. These facts were brought out in depositions taken in the $100,000 slander suit brought by Attorney A. M. Henderson agianst Thomas.

Various business deals linking Attorney Henderson and Judge J. H. C. Lyon were revealed in depositions taken by Thomas in his disbarment suits brought against he two men.

The grand jury will be faced with the task of sifting a mass of charges and counter charges which have bound the situation with a web of legal actions.

Says Motorist Has Right To Amble

If they ever do widen the cement turnpikes, we want four lanes—one for the swift motor cars coming, another for those going, and a third and fourth for drivers who desire to mosey along and look at the scenery. The chief pleasure of motoring is not the chauffeuring, though some may think so. Too trammeling is the severe necessity of watching the track incessantly.

Next to pain, perhaps monotony is our heaviest burden. We go forth to take the air and view the landscape o'er. Let those who only seek to "get there" have the inside track and proceed with whatever velocity they please. Good luck to them—and faith, they will need it! But we fear not so many of them will live to be grandfathers as those who are taking it easy on the outer trackways. The interurban electric trains used to be about the only means of enjoying the woods and fields with speed not to swift. Now, the motor car performs that office best—if we can only segregate part of the highway for those who don't wish to move at the highest speed. —St. Louis Globe, Democrat.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Many a good husband has been practically ruined because he was fool enough to live near a delicatessen store.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

The higher court reversed the order of the lower court and ordered a new trial.

The judges reasoned thus:

It is true that Zeb was entitled to rely on security of the title that Rossbo had in the thing he had sold him. But the seller of any property does not always part with the title when he sells it. He may sell it subject to the rights of the previous buyer who is still paying installments on it. It was the duty of the court to determine under what conditions the sale to the third party was made before calling the transaction a fraud on Zeb.
